DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 2642

4. Claims 1-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yacenda et al. (Yacenda; US 5,822,418; previously cited and applied) in view of Munday et al. (Munday; US 6,480,593 B1; cited previously but applied for the first time).

Regarding claims 1-24, the entire patent to Yacenda plainly teaches the claimed method and system for selecting an operating mode of a telephone system. Yacenda teaches the displaying of different operating modes responsive to the detection of at least one person at an operator position at column 23, line 1 – column 24, line 51. Yacenda plainly teaches the inactive-user conditions; i.e. the person is no longer within the predetermined area and the “do not disturb” status. Yacenda makes it a point to disable an operating mode in response to an inactive-user condition (see column 1, lines 44 – 64 and to the section entitled “DO NOT DISTURB FUNCTION” starting at column 16, line 55). Yacenda also plainly teaches identifying the detected person. Refer also to FIGs. 28-30 of Yacenda.

With respect to the new claim 24, Yacenda plainly and completely teaches such features at entire column 6.

Yacenda differs from claims 1-24 in that Yacenda is silent with respect to communicating via the Internet. However, Munday teaches another method and system for selecting an operating mode of a telephone system, responsive to the detection of a person, that is communicatively coupled to the PSTN and the Internet and communicating via the PSTN or the Internet in response to the first or second operating mode (see Fig. 5 and column 5, line 50 – column 6, line 6 of Munday). Yacenda already teaches a method and system that communicates via the PSTN. Therefore, it would have been obvious even to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the method and system of Yacenda to also communicate via the PSTN or the Internet since providing such a choice was taught and motivated by Munday. Munday also teaches and motivates that the telephone devices can be a cellular telephone (see Figs. 1 and 5 of Munday).

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 4, 11, 14, 18, and 24 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
